

Words from weSPARK

"weSPARK has helped me find relief from pain and hopelessness during the darkest time of my life. I can finally see a bright future ahead." These are words from weSPARK guest, Sharen, as she begins to move forward. Because of you, the generous individuals who continue to give selflessly to support our mission, we are able to help her navigate this journey.

Through your generosity, I'm delighted with what weSPARK has accomplished so far this year. We have officially launched our Spanish Programming with a group for families. Additionally, we will further extend our reach by introducing an online community with a series of videos for those who are unable to visit us in person. Now language, distance and restricted mobility are no longer barriers from receiving relief for the pain, anxiety and isolation a cancer diagnosis carries.

The big hearts of our friends and loyal Torchbearers will continue to move weSPARK forward. Initiating new programs and sustaining our free services would not be possible without your gracious gifts. On behalf of our Board, staff and guests, I express my eternal gratitude. Because of YOU, weSPARK.

Nancy Allen, Executive Director

Jason Alexander Self-Defense Workshop

Friend of weSPARK and man-of-many-talents, Jason Alexander, hosted a Self-Defense Workshop for several lucky raffle winners! Jason, a master of martial arts, shared his many years of experience with live demonstrations, interactive scenarios and helpful tips for defense against any attack. He kept it light-hearted and fun by incorporating activities with colorful squirt guns and wooden cooking spoons. It was such a wonderful experience and we are so grateful to Jason for donating his time and talents, yet again.

On March 9th Jason hosted one of our most attended events at The Garland hotel. It was perfect weather for the outdoor lunch buffet which energized the players for a well-fought spot at our Top 10 Table! Other celebrity poker players such as Antiques Roadshow host, Mark Walberg, Back to the Future star, Lea Thompson and Homeland's David Marciano joined our 300 attendees for an exciting tournament. We want to extend a huge thank you to our sponsors, donors, players and volunteers for helping create another successful event. 🌈
